CHRONOS

Wild: On each challenge, you may cancel the first flip of the destiny pile and cause the next disc to be turned up.

Super: Once any other player has won the game, you get one immediate challenge (as if starting your turn) in which you can try to win the game. If you do so, your win counts instead; but if you fail, his win is verified.

COLONIST

Wild: If you collect defensive rewards or consolation in a system other than your own, all of your tokens on planet bases in that system count towards the number of cards or tokens from the warp that you may take.

Super: Your tokens on planet bases in the system add to your side's total when you are an ally.

COMPACTOR

Wild: If you have more than one of any Attack card you play, you may discard them all after the challenge.

Super: You may replace the cards you give away with new ones from the deck.

Super: You may discard Compromise cards, and retrieve one token from the Warp to bases for each.

Conspirator

Wild: While this card is in your hand, you must attempt to ally in every challenge in which you are invited.

Super: If your secret ally joins either side of the challenge, you may use one of his powers. He may also use it, if appropriate (normal timing rules apply).

Super: You don’t need to pay to play a card above the limit.

Couch Potato

Wild: You may “change channels” causing all powers, hands, and Lucre to shift one position to the right or left. This card may be used only once per turn.

Super: As the defensive player, you may pay a Lucre to the box to “change channels”. Move the cone one system to the left or right, and the challenge proceed normally.

Conscriptor

Wild: As the offensive player in a challenge, after cards are down, you may draft all of any one player’s tokens from the defensive base to be your allies if that player is not already allied on the defensive side in the challenge or the defensive player in the challenge.

Convict

Wild: If you have tokens on at least one other player’s star disc, you may count it as one base towards your win.

Super: You may use the Super Flare of each of your moon powers.

CRIPPLE

Wild: While this card is in your hand, you may not use your power(s).

Super: Your opponent may not use his alien powers, or the effects of any moons he occupies.

Wild: When challenged on a base occupied by tokens of another player (except the offensive player) you may delegate that player as the defensive player. You are not involved in that challenge as a main player.

Super: When required to lose token(s) to the warp for any reason other than as the result of challenge cards being played in a challenge, you may delegate the loss to another player or parts of the loss to several other players. They then lose the required share of tokens to the warp.

Super: At any appropriate time, you may force any player to use his power, even if he does not wish to do so.

DESTINY

Wild: If you actually flip your own color in the destiny pile, you may take the star disc. Later on, between challenges you may put it back into the destiny discard pile in exchange for one challenge anywhere. Discard after use.

Super: As a main player, after alliance, instead of playing cards, you may call a vote. Each game player gets 1 vote. You may buy votes with deals (see rules) which you keep only if you win. Conclude as if the vote winner won the challenge (defense wins ties).
DISEASE

Power to Spread

Wild: Make all other players as a group discard (if possible) one: Flare, Edict, Moon, Token to warp, Attack, Compromise, Kicker, and Alien Power (if multiple powers). DOUBLEHEADER

Power of Double Attack

Wild: You may double the value of any Attack card you play.

Super: You place only one set of tokens on the cone. It counts for both attacks. If you lose one, you lose no tokens. If you win both, place a set of tokens from home bases onto the second base you win.

DOPPELGANGER

Power to Haunt

Wild: Whenever you would normally put tokens into the cone, instead of doing so, you may secretly write down the number you want to put in and on which side. When the outcome is being determined, reveal what you wrote and it is counted in. Now dispose of your tokens as if that number had been in the cone.

Super: You may ask two different players for their highest Attack card and a Compromise. In a 2-player game, you get cards from the player and from the deck.

DUELIST

Power to Clash

Super: You pay no penalty if you lose the duel.

DUNGEONMASTER

Power to Control

Super: You may specify how the player must perform the action you force him to take.

ENTREPRENEUR

Wild: At the start of your turn, you may “invest” some of your Lucre. Put them in the box. At the end of the turn, the investment matures. If you still have this card, retrieve your Lucre, plus an equal number from the box. If you lose this card before your turn ends, the investment is lost.

Super: You may ally with up to 4 Lucre and 4 tokens.

EMPLOYEE

Wild: You may be hired for Lucre to ally on either side of a contested non-planet challenge. If your side wins the challenge, you get defensive rewards (even if you allied offensively).

Super: You may take the Lucre and refuse to ally. Your “boss” still gets rewards if his side wins.

ENSLAVER

Wild: You may hold a “slave auction”. Auction off tokens held on your star disc one at a time until no one bids. Bids are made in Lucre. If a player buys his own token, he returns it to a base; if he buys another player’s, he places the token on his star disc.

Super: Only the attacker’s slave tokens count towards his side during a “slave revolt”. Other slave tokens count for your side and are not freed even if the revolt is successful. You may continue to use your slaves’ power (except for the attacker’s).

ENERGIZER

Wild: As a main player in a challenge, after cards are played, but before they are revealed, you may throw any number of your tokens from home bases into the Warp, adding one point to your total for each.

PSYCHO

Wild: When you must play a challenge card, you may choose another player’s regular hand to play it from. You may not play the card from your direct opponent’s hand. SECRET AGENT
Wild: Once on each challenge, you may prevent a player from revealing a secret power or moon.
Super: You may place up to five "secret" tokens on any planet you occupy. Write down their location. They do not count in a challenge against that base unless you reveal them. "Secret" tokens may be revealed at any time, including after you have lost the base. Use tokens from a color not in the game. Once revealed treat these tokens as if they were your own color. Discard after use.

SEEKER
Wild: If another player invites you to ally, you may demand to see the challenge card he intends to play. If you ally with him, he must play that card if he can.
Super: If you are a main player or ally, you may ask any question of one of the main players; not just a "yes" or "no" question. He must answer it truthfully. (This question takes the place of your normal Seeker question).

SKEPTIC

Wild: You can wait to put tokens into the cone until after everyone else has.

Super: When you tell a main player you doubt that he will win, you also tell him how many tokens not in the challenge (1-20) are at risk (instead of your normal Skeptic method of determining risk). If he double doubts you and plays the challenge, the loser (or both if you fail to deal) loses that number of tokens to the warp in addition to the tokens lost in the challenge.

Wild: You may buy your tokens back to bases from other players' star discs at any time for one Lucre per token.
